Welcome to the 2018-19 season of the Havant Orchestras!

Whether you enjoy the spectacle of a large symphony orchestra or the classic refinement of a smaller 'chamber' orchestra, you'll find that live classical music, brought to your neighbourhood at affordable prices, is well worth a try!

This is the mission of the two Havant Orchestras: to provide an opportunity for local musicians to perform together and to bring live performances to you!

Both orchestras have a solid reputation for high quality performances with outstanding soloists, including familiar local musicians, up-and-coming new talent and established international performers.

Oaklands School Hall

Havant Symphony Orchestra (HSO) concerts are at Oaklands Catholic School in Waterlooville, which is fortunate to have the best hall in the area for large orchestral concerts, with raked seating and excellent acoustics.

Jonathan Butcher
Musical Director, HSO

For 2018-19, HSO are thrilled to be welcoming two outstanding up-and-coming young musicians — pianist Dinara Klinton and horn player Ben Goldscheider. Our final concert will see the return of violinist Joo Yeon Sir who performed with us to great acclaim in 2016.

HSO's Bob Harding Bursary Award scheme enables a talented student conductor to work with the orchestra throughout the season, and each HSO concert normally includes at least one work conducted by the current award holder.

Robin Browning
Musical Director, HCO

Havant Chamber Orchestra (HCO) concerts continue at premier venue Ferneham Hall in Fareham.

HCO are proud to have clarinettist Robert Blanken as one of their players and always enjoy giving him the solo spot! This season we also introduce Liss-based violinist Sara Deborah Timossi, in the ever-popular 'Lark Ascending', and rising star of the piano, Daniel Lehardt.

Further changes may sometimes be necessary after programme details have gone to print. For the latest information, please visit our website:
